

OC1 Membership Rack Agreement

In an effort to continue its mission to perpetuate the sport of outrigger canoeing, Kilohana Outrigger Canoe Club ("the Club") provides storage rack space, on an annual basis, to its Members in Good Standing, as outlined herein.

While storing your canoe at the Club's Redwood City practice site, you agree that neither Kilohana Outrigger Canoe Club, nor the Club's property manager, The Marine Science Institute, shall be held liable for loss of property due to damage or theft.

Further, you are agreeing to store and secure your canoe at your own risk. Kilohana strongly recommends the use of cable locks and boat covers to secure and protect your canoe.

The Club's rack space can accommodate the storage of either an OC1, or an OC2, nothing larger.

To obtain a storage space, the following requirements must be met:

1. Your completed Membership Application is on file with the Club's secretary.
2. Your completed Canoe Storage Agreement is on file with the Club's secretary.
3. Your OC1 Membership payment is on record as having been received by the Club's treasurer.
4. If you are a current member of Kilohana, you must pay the remaining balance to fulfill OC1 Membership status and your payment must be on record with the Club's treasurer.
5. Returning OC1 Members must fulfill the requirements as outlined in the Club's Bylaws and Member Handbook in order to retain their assigned space. If the requirements are not met, they will be subject to the loss of their storage space and removal of their canoe(s) from the main rack area.

If space is not available, you may request a refund for the storage fee amount. In such a case, your membership status will be changed, accordingly. If you do not request a refund, then you will be given priority on a first come, first served basis and as outlined herein.

Due to the limited number of spaces available, prioritization of canoe storage is set forth as follows:

1. Kilohana Outrigger Canoe Club equipment & canoes
2. OC1 Members
3. Canoes for sale by Kilohana Ohana
4. Temporary storage of canoes approved by the Kilohana BOD, if assigned rack space is unavailable

Further, assigned storage space for current OC1 Members will be prioritized as follows:

1. Ohana spaces (one family household doubling up canoes in one space) will be assigned a space, such that both spouses can safely access their canoes
2. Ease of access. For example, top rack spaces will go to our taller Kilohana members.
3. OC1 Members sharing a space with a non-family member will have a lower priority to those above

The Club’s Sergeant at Arms is responsible for managing the canoe storage facility. The Sergeant at Arms will regularly review rack assignments and reserves the right to reassign spaces as needed.

NOTE: Individuals voluntarily sharing space with a past due, or former OC1 Member, shall be subject to removal of their canoe from the main rack area.

Release of Liability: By signing below, I have read and agree to abide by the guidelines stated above. I acknowledge that failure to comply with these guidelines constitutes negligence and will carry consequences that will be enforced. I am aware that I am storing my canoe at my own risk. I shall not hold Kilohana Outrigger Canoe Club, or its officers, responsible for damage to, or theft of my canoe, or its adjoining equipment. Further, I shall not hold The Marine Science Institute, or its officers, responsible for damage to, or theft of my canoe, or its adjoining equipment. I further agree that I waive my right to seek and obtain a lawsuit against Kilohana Outrigger Canoe Club or its officers and also the Marine Science Institute and its officers, on the basis of any claim regarding damage to, or loss of my canoe and its adjoining equipment. I herein and henceforth release Kilohana Outrigger Canoe Club and its officers and The Marine Science Institute and its officers of all liability resulting from the storage of my canoe(s) at Kilohana Outrigger Canoe Club’s storage facility, located at 500 Discovery Parkway, Redwood City, CA 94063.
